On the occasion of the second edition of Frieze LA, Blum & Poe is pleased to present a selection of works by Los Angeles-based artists—including those who have worked with the gallery for much of its history, some even since opening in 1994. On view are new works by Sam Durant, Henry Taylor, Anya Gallaccio, Mark Grotjahn, Shio Kusaka, Theodora Allen, Julian Hoeber, Matt Johnson, Friedrich Kunath, Florian Maier-Aichen, Penny Slinger, Jim Shaw, Mimi Lauter, and Dave Muller. Alongside these mainstays of the gallery's program, representing a chapter of new relationships following the gallery's 25th anniversary last September, will be works by Aaron Garber-Maikovska and Asuka Anastacia Ogawa.
