Ghosts

11 November – 18 December 2021

The prints take as their starting point a reel of super-8 film footage dating from 1980. Originally shot to be projected as the ephemeral backdrop of a theater play, the super-8 film and the theater play were both created by my mother. I used this super-8 film as source document, raw material, and inspiration for the eight final prints, which were printed on light sensitive paper in a photochemical darkroom. — Jennifer Bornstein
