

On view at

WINDOW:

Keith Boadwee: How Much is that Froggy in the Window?

November 1, 2024 - January 12, 2025

California artist Keith Boadwee returns to New York for the first time since his spectacular joint exhibition with Nicole Eisenman at the FLAG Art Foundation in 2020/21. At WINDOW, Boadwee presents How Much is that Froggy in the Window? which features portraits of frogs, poodles, and emo kids in various poses of reflection while vaping, smoking, holding flowers, or getting ready for a boozy drink. Boadwee, known for his transgressive, psychosexual work that has tested social conventions and acquainted viewers with rebellious subject matter and the artist's bodily functions as a means to paint, has recently focused on a cast of rather relaxed protagonists whose only predilection for bodily fluids is hinted at in their fondness for the occasional plume of cigarette smoke or water spill.

On view 24/7
at 91 Walker
Street, 10013

(corner of Walker
and Lafayette)

Keith Boadwee, It don't mean a thing if it ain't got that swing, 2024, Oil on canvas, 36 x 24 inches, (91.4 x 61 cm)

On view at

WINDOW:

Keith Boadwee: How Much is that Froggy in the Window?

November 1, 2024 - January 12, 2025

California artist Keith Boadwee returns to New York for the first time since his spectacular joint exhibition with Nicole Eisenman at the FLAG Art Foundation in 2020/21. At WINDOW, Boadwee presents How Much is that Froggy in the Window? which features portraits of frogs, poodles, and emo kids in various poses of reflection while vaping, smoking, holding flowers, or getting ready for a boozy drink. Boadwee, known for his transgressive, psychosexual work that has tested social conventions and acquainted viewers with rebellious subject matter and the artist's bodily functions as a means to paint, has recently focused on a cast of rather relaxed protagonists whose only predilection for bodily fluids is hinted at in their fondness for the occasional plume of cigarette smoke or water spill.

On view 24/7
at 91 Walker
Street, 10013

(corner of Walker
and Lafayette)

Keith Boadwee, It don't mean a thing if it ain't got that swing, 2024, Oil on canvas, 36 x 24 inches, (91.4 x 61 cm)