Perrotin New York is pleased to present Touch Grass, a summer group exhibition celebrating artistic connections to the natural world. The show takes its title from the phrase “touch grass”—a contemporary directive to get offline and ground oneself in real emotions and activities.

Touch Grass brings together artists with diverse practices who are united in their respective commitment to producing works distinctly the result of human hand and mind.

Tactile imperfections, gestural abstractions, conceptual frameworks, and more—this exhibition is an embrace of community and the humanity shared between us all.
