Gedi Sibony

Lemons and Grapefruits

12 Rue du Grand Cerf

November 17, 2017 – January 13, 2018

Opening November 16, 6-8pm

Gladstone Gallery is pleased to present Lemons and Grapefruits, an exhibition of small scale oil paintings by Gedi Sibony, his third exhibition with the gallery in Brussels.

Starting with found or secondhand store paintings that have drifted away from authorship and ownership, Sibony seeks something more in each canvas, intervening into each painting's surface. Known for his staging of cast away objects, here Sibony exercises an intimate and searching involvement using oil paint, with a sometimes light and occasionally heavy touch, to honor and regain some of the space and aspects of the paintings—both highlighting and reconfiguring these jettisoned reflections on objects in space.

Sibony's perceptive approach to placing found items in carefully considered architectural contexts is further explored with this new body of work by zeroing in on the moderate scale. Sibony pays close attention to his exhibitions' methodical layouts, and here through his application of paint, works inside each found painting's visual flow. Through this process, he transforms two-dimensional space in a similar way to how he plays with spatial continuity in the three-dimensional realm.

Gedi Sibony was born in 1973 in New York, where he currently lives and works. Recent solo exhibitions include Douglas Hyde Gallery, Dublin; Pulitzer Foundation for the Arts, St. Louis; Culturgest, Lisbon; and Contemporary Art Museum St. Louis. In 2015, Sibony was featured in "All the World's Futures" at the 56th Venice Biennale, curated by Okwui Enwezor. His work is included in the collections of the Museum of Modern Art, New York; the San Francisco Museum of Modern Art; the Walker Art Center, Minneapolis; and the Whitney Museum of American Art, New York.
